b) Can you understand the narrative techniques and humour used in the story? Answer these questions.

1. a) What information is hidden from the reader?

The fact that David is being interviewed for a job he didn't apply for.

b) Explain when the hidden information is revealed and why it is hidden until this point.

This is revealed when he receives a letter from the hospital. It is not revealed until then because the story is told from David's point of view, and he does not find out until then.

2. a) One entire scene of the story is intended<sup>1</sup> to be humorous. Which scene is it?

The scene in the interview room.

b) Describe why this scene is humorous. What was the reader expecting? What actually happens?

The reader expects typical interview questions, rather than questions about being a clown.

<sup>1</sup> to intend [in'tend] beabsichtigen
